a many ways.
It is believed that the fire originated rom the stove in the bakeshop, in the rear of the dwelling. The damage will total a considerable sum, including loss on furniture, equipment, baker's products, materials, on the house and to the business, amounting, it is estimated at $1.500 to $2,000. The building is gutted and the damage by water and chemical alone, to say nothng of actual loss by fire, is no small m. The bakery was operated by corge E. Whitford and Rufus H Worden and the tenement was occu pied by Mr. Whitford and his family The recall was sounded within 1 minutes after the sounding of the alarm. An immense crowd gathered, as it was the first fire of any size on the Hill in a long time. There was some insurance, it is understood.

RUNAWAY GIRL HELD.

Sixteen-Year-Old Syrian from Fall River, and Local Youth, 21, Consider Marriage License Sufficient for Ceremony,

There was excitement in one of the social gatherings of Syrians Saturday evening, when a young Syrian girl was taken to police headquarters a little before ten o'clock by an officer from Fall River, Mass. The girl was ecompanied by a young man and a trge train of local Syrians, some fit-een or twenty men, and one woman. Constable Ameen Janial, who also acts case to Lieut. Daniel Killourey. The girl, according to a document from the Fail River authorities in the possession of the Syrian constable, was but 18 years of age and had run away from her home Thursday. When questioned, the young girl said she was 21 and that she had stayed the night before with her husband, pointing to a young chap at her side. Further questioning revealed that they were not married but that they intended to be, laving procured a marriage. tioning revealed that they were not married but that they intended to be, having procured a marriage license from the office of the local town clerk Saturday forenoon. The facts on the license indicated that the fellow, a local Syrian—that is, claiming to live here—was 22 and the girl 21 years of age. The visiting constable held a conference with Chief Richmond and then the girl was locked up pending the arrival of her mother, as she refused to go back to Fall River with the officer, About midnight, the girl, whose officer, About midnight, the girl, whose name is Jennie Solomon, was released on a bond for her appearance before the local court this (Monday) morning, at which time it is believed that either er mother will be present or the girl will consent to return voluntarily to Fall River. The charge entered upon the blotter was "runaway girl."
